The Demand

Tomorrow, find one place to participate in the conversation shaping your industry's rules where it costs you nothing — a state association meeting, a local advocacy call, a single email. There is no neutral position; your tax dollars and compliance costs fund the outcome either way. Retain the agency to influence it rather than just absorb it.

The Work

Name one place to participate in the conversation shaping your industry's rules where it costs you nothing this week:

☐ A state restaurant association meeting

☐ A local advocacy call

☐ A single email to a representative

☐ Other:

Your tax dollars and compliance costs fund the outcome either way — what is your current position, active or passive?

The mechanism you will read closely enough to name it clearly when it arrives at your door:

What you will actually do this week, without abandoning the room you're already responsible for:
